Is the interconnect Metered? Yes, No

Reason for use of interconnect:

Check one of the following:

- Water is being conveyed between a Provider/Supplier and User/Receiver both within the NFBWA.
- Water is being conveyed from a Provider/Supplier within the NFBWA to a User/Receiver outside the NFBWA.
- Water is being conveyed from a Provider/Supplier outside the NFBWA to a User/Receiver within the NFBWA.

Note: water imported into the NFBWA from outside of the Authority may be subject to an imported water fee in accordance with Section 3.03 of the Authority's Rate Order unless the following conditions are met:

- (i) The Authority has consented to the transfer in writing.
- (ii) Water is received for a period not to exceed 60 days and only if the receiving entity receives the water due to emergency conditions. The NFBWA will determine what constitutes emergency conditions.

Are you requesting that NFBWA waive the imported water fee? Yes, No

It may take up to 60 days for the Board to act on requests.

What wells are affected by use of the interconnect?

For each well, indicate whether the well will be used more or less than 'normal' (or not used at all).

Does the User/Receiver have any alternatives to using this interconnect (including other interconnects)? If yes, please explain

How will the Provider/Supplier be repaid for the water?

If the interconnect is not metered, describe how the quantity of water will be estimated:

We would also like to stress the importance of proper reporting in the Authority's Pumpage Reporting Online System (PROS). For information on correctly reporting water transfers, click here.
